Topics

Alterations to the ECM are a common denominator in many chronic diseases. The ECM is not merely a consequence of the diseases but an active driver.

At ECM2024, experts can discuss, share, and learn from other disease areas. This will help increase our understanding of the ECM's role across diseases and accelerate the discovery and development of drugs targeting the ECM.

Access to all areas

We aim to encourage interaction and knowledge sharing between academia and industry. That's why exhibitor registration also grants access to all scientific sessions.

Sponsorship & Exhibition

ECM2024 offers sponsors and exhibitors exposure to leading researchers in academia and industry, as well as doctors and medical students specializing in ECM research. The congress provides you with the opportunity to demonstrate your leadership, support, and commitment to the rapidly expanding field of ECM research.

The commercial exhibition will run concurrently with the congress and will be open throughout all congress days. It is strategically positioned near the auditoriums, serving as a hub for catering refreshments and lunch. This setup is designed to optimize the duration during which delegates engage with the exhibition area.

We consider the exhibition a vital component of the ECM2024 congress, connecting academia with industry and fostering an environment where both worlds can meet and inspire each other.
